'Technology-Language-Culture' is the theme for the 2006 Fatsil National Indigenous Languages Forum, to be held in Port Hedland, Western Australia, from the 5th to the 7th of September.

It promises to be a fascinating event as issues of culture and language are explored within the context of new technology and modern strategies for language development. Come along and learn about how a CDROM, video or interactive website can enhance your language program and language projects.

The venue has space available for a display or video presentation, and an outdoor area that would be suitable for dance, music or other performances.

An agenda of formal discussion topics will also be prepared after contributions from Language Centres and Language Committees have been considered.

If you would like to discuss any aspect of the forum or AGM, please get in contact with Sone McKendry or Bill Lancaster on 03 9602 4700 or email admin@fatsil.org
